

How to Measure:

To ensure accurate measurements we suggest having a professional seamstress measure you. If you do not get a professional seamstress to take your measurements you should follow this guide to ensure proper fit. Please Note: You should always have someone else take your measurements, physically measuring yourself will provide you with inaccurate numbers, so please have someone help you.

Bust

Bust - Not your bra size! Take the tape around your back and bring it across the fullest part of your bust. Your arms should be relaxed, down at your sides. You must wear a bra when taking this measurement.

Waist

Waist- This is the smallest part of your waist. Typically it's an inch or so above your belly button. Also known as the natural waistline.

Hips

Hips- This is the widest part of your hips, across the hipbone. Measurement is taken approximately 7 inches below the natural waistline. This measurement is not needed for full gowns.

Hollow to Hem

Hollow to Hem- This is the length from your hollow (the hollow just under your neck) to your heels. (Take the tape from your back). You should stand upright and your feet should keep together. We will make gown 2 inches longer for the height of shoes. If your shoes are special, please mention it.
